Trump's

thought we'd be asking: Is our democracy in danger? Harvard professors Steven Levitsky and Daniel Ziblatt have spent more than twenty years studying the breakdown of democracies in Europe and Latin America, and they believe the answer is yes.

Democracy no longer ends with a bang—in a
revolution or military coup—but with a
whimper: the
slow, steady
weakening of critical
institutions,

such as the judiciary and the press, and the gradual erosion of long-standing political norms. The good news is that there are several exit ramps on the road to authoritarianism. The bad news is that, by electing Trump,

we have already
passed the first
one. Drawing on decades of

how democracies
die—and how ours
can be saved.
